

Individualized Amputee Rehabilitation

When adjusting to life following an amputation, whether it's your own experience or supporting a loved one, the transition will present new challenges and modifications. At Good Shepherd Rehabilitation, we understand the complex emotions and significant changes you're facing and are here to guide you to a strong recovery. Our nationally recognized inpatient amputee rehabilitation program offers both pre- and post-prosthetic rehabilitation with expertise, compassion and unwavering support.

Nationally Accredited & Patient Recommended

The Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF) has recognized our program with its prestigious accreditation — a testament to our commitment to excellence in patient care. This recognition reflects what matters most: our dedication to providing you with the highest standard of rehabilitation services.

Good Shepherd is trusted by families for compassionate and comprehensive amputee recovery, designing a specific plan to help patients achieve their highest potential of physical functionality with the use of technology and hands-on therapy.
